

HLA ATTORNEYS STAND READY TO ANSWER YOUR HOMESCHOOLING QUESTIONS:

What is my legal responsibility to my state?

What should I do if I am contacted by Child Welfare services?

Will my child's homeschool diploma be accepted for college?

What options are available for state testing?

What are the current legal trends of which I need to be aware of?

The primary role of the parents in the upbringing of their children is ESTABLISHED BEYOND DEBATE as an ENDURING AMERICAN TRADITION.

HLA provides you with a sympathetic partner so you won't have to navigate the legal system alone.

We recognize the best prevention is education, so HOMESCHOOL LEGAL ADVANTAGE strives to help you avoid legal problems before they occur. We give you the resources and information to empower your family by helping you understand the often complicated homeschooling laws.

Homeschool Legal Advantage stands ready to protect your right to homeschool. Please contact HLA for additional information.

A MINISTRY OF
CHRISTIAN LAW ASSOCIATION

Thankfully, in America it is well established law that parents have the liberty to direct the upbringing and education of the children under their control.

However, in today's culture there are many people who want to minimize the rights of parents and the importance of God's model for the family—especially the role of parents in educating their children.

Train up a child in the way he should go: and when he is old, he will not depart from it. Proverbs 22:6

In response to the growing need to defend the educational liberties of Christian families, the Christian Law Association has formed the Homeschool Legal Advantage. HLA is compiled of a team of experienced:

- ATTORNEYS
- EDUCATORS
- HOMESCHOOL PARENTS
- HOMESCHOOL GRADUATES

HLA is a ministry dedicated to protecting your right to educate, train and discipline your children consistent with your faith.

4 KEY PRINCIPLES TO HOMESCHOOLING

1 Know the Law in Your State

If the law in your state is confusing, our attorneys are here to help. It is to your advantage to know and comply with the law—this will give you a firm legal footing so that you can devote your energy to the greater work of educating your children!

2 Follow the Law

Such compliance will help ensure your continuing freedom to homeschool your children.

3 Do Your Work As Homeschoolers Excellently

Set the standard for academic excellence! If we give legislators reason to believe homeschoolers need to be regulated—they will! It is harder for homeschooling opponents to gain traction if homeschooling families are known for excellence!

4 Keep Good Records

Keeping records such as a list of courses, books, sample work, graded materials, and calendar days taught is the best way to protect your right to homeschool should it come under attack.
